

Nausicaa

Character Description:

You're an experienced Project Leader, known for your clear vision and solid experience in guiding large-scale initiatives. You have almost passed your best professional age, waiting to become chief of your organization. Now, you are there, after Agamemnon's left. Good manager, but with an insecure personality, affected by Agamemnon long charismatic leadership. You are not interested in appearing but want to use this opportunity to consolidate yourself professionally and demonstrate your ability.

Description of the Organization Represented:

Your organization is the pillar of the consortium, serving as the primary contact with the Sun Federation and other major stakeholders.

Your Responsibilities in the Oracle Project:

In your role, you lead Work Package 1 (Project Management) by organizing, coordinating, and supervising every phase of the project. You create detailed management plans, assign tasks, and set clear timelines. Your daily routine involves tracking progress, identifying potential risks, and ensuring that reports to funding bodies are on point. Finally, your work guarantees smooth communication between partners and adherence to budget and formal requirements, keeping the project on track and within its timeline.

Individual Goal:

Your goal is to transform your organization into a model of excellent governance and management by staying on top of every detail in the project documentation. You're determined to encourage your partners to opt for option (1) during quest #3.
